

Anu Sachdev

Instructor of Early Childhood and Elementary Education

B.A., 1973, Delhi University
M.A., 1975, Delhi University
M.Ed., 1994, Lehigh University
M.Ed., 2013, Lehigh University
Ph.D., Lehigh University

My experience in the field spans roles as a classroom teacher, Head Start supervisor, owner of Montessori children's program, director of teacher training program, consultant, mentor and adjunct faculty. I have also worked internationally in teacher training programs and early childhood classrooms. I am passionate about advocating and collaborating with local, state, national and international organizations to improve services for children and families.

Teaching Interest

I teach in the Pre-K block, specializing in early childhood development and learning.

Research Interest

My research interests include teacher education, family engagement, dual language learners, cultural diversity, arts integration and international education.

Service

Numerous local, state, national and international organizations to improve services for children and families.