

Brittany Massare is an Assistant Professor of Pediatrics at the Penn State College of Medicine. She works as a general pediatrician in Hershey, PA and as a physician in the neonatal neurodevelopmental clinic. She is the physician advisor for the PA chapter of the American Academy of Pediatrics Early Childhood Education and Linkage system (ECELS), helping to provide professional development and technical help about health and safety in childcare. Dr. Massare also acts as guest faculty at a Childcare Health Advocate course for early childcare educators in Pennsylvania and serves on a national American Academy of Pediatrics Early Care and Education subcommittee where members work together to advocate for health and safety in early childcare centers across the United States.
